CURES STOMACH TROUBLES

THE body gets its life from food properly digested. Healthy digestion means pure blood for the body, but stomach troubles arise from carelessness in eating and stomach disorders upset the entire system. Improperly masticated food sours on the stomach, causing distressing pains, belching and nausea. When over-eating is persisted in the stomach becomes weakened and worn out and dyspepsia claims the victim.

Thedford's Black-Draught cures dyspepsia. It frees the stomach and bowels of congested matter and gives the stomach new life. The stomach is quickly invigorated and the natural stimulation results in a good appetite, with the power to thoroughly digest food.

You can build up your stomach with this mild and natural remedy. Try Thedford's Black-Draught today. You can buy a package from your dealer for 25c. If he does not keep it, send the money to The Chattanooga Medicine Co., Chattanooga, Tenn., and a package will be mailed you.

A LITTLE NONSENSE.

What Old Mose Cared For the Most of All.

When old Mose applied for work he was given a job shoveling sand at a dollar a day.

A few days later the foreman passed near the sand bank and, to his surprise, saw Mose comfortably seated on a pile of sand directing the movements of another dusky laborer.

"Why, Mose," he exclaimed, "I did not hire that man! What's he doing here?"

"I got him er-doing my wuk, sah," replied Mose.

"Who pays him?" was the question.

"I does, sah. I pays him a dollah a day, sah," was the response.

"Why, that's all you receive, Mose. How do you profit by the transaction?" asked the amazed foreman.

"Well," replied Mose, scratching his woolly head, "I gets to boss de job, doan' I?"—Lippincott's Magazine.

Sound Reasoning.

"Refuse me and life will be an empty dream."

"It is better to have an empty dream than to get married and have an empty pocket."

Guying His Uncle.

Uncle George—Why in time don't you brace up and do something? There's a splendid career before you if you'll only profit by it.

Dick—It is because I've such a splendid career before me that I don't want to lose it. As long as I don't use it, that career will always be before me. Seems to me the wise thing to do is to always have a promising prospect to feed your imagination upon.—Boston Transcript.

Applying the New Test.

"Mr. Throggins, did you ever ask any other girl to marry you?"

"I never did, Gladys! Never! I—why are you looking at me so curiously?"

"I am looking at your eyelids to see whether you are telling me the truth or not. I—I don't know what to believe. One of your eyelids says you are telling the truth, and the other says you are lying."—Chicago Tribune.

He Believed In Change.

Mrs. B. said to her little son, five years old, "You have been a naughty boy, and boys that are naughty can't go to heaven." He replied, "I don't want to go to heaven!" "Why, Eddie! You don't want to go to heaven?" "No. I came from there, and I want to go to a new place."—New York Globe.

Recognized.

"You don't recognize titles of nobility in this country?" said the distinguished foreigner.

"Oh, yes, we can," answered Mr. Cumrox. "Mother and the girls cannot only recognize 'em, but they can quote their market valuation offhand."—Washington Star.

Trying to Recover.

"When I saw her last she seemed to have fallen in love with him."

"Oh, yes. But that was some time ago. She's suing him now for breach of promise."

"Trying to get damages for the fall, eh?"—Philadelphia Record.

In the Same Boat.

Ragson (to friend in hotel bedroom)—Let me in, Jim. I can't find the keyhole.

Tagson—Call a hall boy. I just got in myself and don't know where it is either.—Detroit Free Press.

What He Needed Most.

"I see yer movin' out, boss," said Weary Willie, stopping to watch the operation. "Is dere anything yer don't need dat I might take?"

"Yes," snapped Subbubs—"a bath!"—New York Times.

Not Counting Him.

She—Are you sure you love no one else better than me?

He—Well—er—I—

She—Oh, I mean besides yourself.—Philadelphia Ledger.

She Had Not.

"Every individual is intelligent on some subject."

"Have you found yours yet?"—Houston Post.

FOR THE LITTLE ONES.

Telling Fortunes by the Leaves In the Teacup.

Ever so many people would like to have their fortunes told by the appearance of the leaves in their teacups, but very few people know how to tell the fortunes.

The way to do is this: After you have drawn your tea, leaving just a few drops with the leaves, first make a wish and repeat it three times in your mind, then twirl the cup around so as to shake up the leaves as much as possible. Do this three times, from left to right, then turn the cup upside down and, setting it in the saucer, twirl it again three times, left to right; then, looking in, read the fortune:

I have a fortune rhyme to use:
"One leaf alone, alone you'll be;
Two together, the priest you'll see;
Three in groups, your wish you'll gain;
Four, a letter from loving swain;
Five, good news the letter 'll bring;
Six in a row, a song you'll sing;
Seven together, great fortune waits
For you—so say the teacup fates.
Tea leaves short and tea leaves tall
Bring you company great and small;
Tea leaves many and dotted fine
Are of bad luck the surest sign;
Tea leaves few and clean the rim.
Your cup with joy o'erflows the brim."

Birds Are Hard Workers.

Birds can and do work far harder than human beings. A pair of house martins when nesting will feed their young once in twenty seconds—that is, each bird, male and female, makes ninety journeys to and fro in an hour, or about 1,000 a day. It must be remembered that on each journey the bird has the added work of catching the worm.

Even so tiny a bird as the wren has been counted to make 110 trips to and from its nest within 430 minutes, and the prey it carried home consisted of larger, heavier and harder to find insects than were caught by the sparrows. Among them were twenty good sized caterpillars, ten grasshoppers, seven spiders, eleven worms and more than one fat chrysalis.

The Fisher Game.

The players all seize a tablecloth or a similar sheet by the edges. The one who is chosen as leader says:

"I fish for all kinds of fish. When I say, 'Let go!' you must hold fast. When I say, 'Hold fast!' you must let go."

Then the leader begins to speak quickly, saying anything that comes into his head, until suddenly he says, "Let go!" or, "Hold fast!" at a time when he imagines that he can catch the others off their guard. Those who are caught must pay a forfeit.

A Painful End. No Doubt.

A teacher once told her class that a child should make up a sentence with the words "bitter end" for the last words of the sentence. She waited for quite awhile. After awhile a small boy said he knew a sentence, so she told him to go ahead. "Our dog chased the next door cat over the fence and 'bitter end'" (bit her end).

Riddles.

In a yard there is a pole, on that pole there is a lease, and on that lease there is a man. What is it? Policeman.

Mother works fast, father works slow and has twelve children. What is it? A clock.

East, west, north, south, four legs and ne'er a mouth. What is it? A table.

Sport Was at Home.

A short time ago Frank, aged three and a half years, was uptown with his mother. In coming out of one of the large stores a man accidentally ran into him and, catching hold of him (Frank) to keep from falling, said, "Hello, there, Sport!" Frank, looking up, replied: "I ain't a dog. Sport is at home."—New York Globe.

Can You Do This?

Take a dollar, stand it upright on the table, take a pin in each hand, and, catching the dollar firmly between the two pin points, lift it up in the air, and keep it balanced there for half a minute at a time.

A Gorgeous Easter Hat.

"I couldn't see my Easter hat
If I put it on my head;
This plan suits me absolutely,"
Little Ethel said.

OURS, NOT MINE.

A Simple Plan That Might Prevent Many Home Tragedies.

"It is mine!"

"I tell you, you are mistaken; it is mine!"

Divorce court.

Which is a terse way of putting the sad history of many a marriage disagreement over the things mine and thine and the domestic misery that follows.

The way to settle such a disagreement is for both parties to say, "It is ours."

Because of the struggle for mine and thine the records of history are rolled in blood, nations have fallen, barriers of hatred have been raised, brother has fought brother. Envy, dissension and division have come because men have contended for that which is not theirs, but "ours."

Organized selfishness in our day has manifested itself in the great corporation spiders that have spread their webs far and wide, controlling the avenues of approach, watching for victims with their many faceted eyes, gathering to themselves what is not theirs, but "ours."

The world is ours.

Sky and earth—ours.

Sunshine and shade—ours.

Flowers and birds—ours.

Fruits and fertile fields—ours.

And the Master of us all taught us to pray, "Our Father."

Ladies and gentlemen, everywhere is needed this doctrine of "ours"—in the family, city, state, nation, world.

The solution of all earth's problems is wrapped up in the one saying:

"Everything is ours."—Milwaukee Journal.

Better Blood.

In the home of a New England farmer there are two small heirs, bright little fellows, six and seven years old, named Will and Eugene. Like most other lads, both of them dislike work, especially "chores," and when these small services are required each frequently evinces a desire to have the other take the laboring oar. Once the family physician was calling at the house in attendance on the mother. As he was putting on his gloves to go away he ran a professional glance over the two youngsters.

"Mrs. Fuller," he remarked, "the younger of your two boys, Eugene, is more robust than Will. He has greater vitality. His blood is better."

About an hour later, as dusk was falling, the mother said: "Will, you must fill the wood box for morning. Fetch in four armfuls."

"I don't want to!" whined Will. "Make Gene go. His blood's better'n mine."—Youth's Companion.

Human Hair Market.

The human hair industry is a very active one in France, the departments most frequently visited by the hair merchants being those of Correze, Creuse, Allier, Cher, Dordogne and Haute Vienne. The average price given for a full, long head of hair is from 8 shillings to 25 shillings for the very best quality and color. The girls of the districts mentioned above, which are exceedingly poor, stipulate that their hair shall not be cut short in front and conceal the shorn appearance at the back by a draped colored handkerchief. The best shades of light and blond hair are obtained from Germany and Switzerland, and for these high prices are paid.—London Mail.

BOOZE OR MEDICINE?

Which will you have? If a woman suffering from one of the delicate ailments peculiar to your sex it will be well for you to know that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the only remedy advertised for such maladies which is absolutely free from intoxicating liquors and all other harmful agents. The good you feel from its use is not the delusive exhileration from a tippling beverage, from which the system reacts into a worse condition than before. It may be a little slower in manifesting its bracing and invigorating action, but its benefits are none the less positive and, best of all, they are lasting. It's an honest medicine—not a beverage.

"I have been taking your medicine for the last three weeks and can say I am gaining strength," writes Mrs. Seneth Kinny, of 605 East Madison Street, Mount Pleasant, Iowa. "I have been having very poor health all winter. I doctored with our family doctor but was relieved only while taking the medicine. I took Dr. Pierce's medicine several years ago. I knew it was good for any one suffering with female trouble. Have taken only one bottle and am gaining strength very fast. I could not eat nor sleep when I began taking the 'Favorite Prescription.' Heart troubled me and I had cold and numb spells till my heart would almost stop beating. Have had one child since first taking your medicine. If I continue with your treatment am positive I will be cured."

Every suffering woman in this land should write to Dr. Pierce and learn how certainly he can help her to health and strength. It costs nothing to write and receive entirely free the advice of one of the most experienced physicians in this country. His great thousand-page book the Common Sense Medical Adviser, in stiff paper covers, will be sent free for 21 one-cent stamps the bare cost of mailing; or, send 31 stamps for cloth bound. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Pierce's Pleasant Pellets These ORIGINAL Little Liver Pills, first put up by old Dr. R. V. Pierce over 40 years ago, have been much imitated but never equaled. They're made of purely vegetable, concentrated and refined medicinal principles, extracted from native American roots and plants. They speedily relieve and cure foul, torpid and deranged Stomachs, Livers and Bowels and their attendant distressful ailments. One or two a laxative, three or four a cathartic.

Don't allow the dealer to insult your intelligence by offering his own remedy to you instead of this well-known preparation of Dr. Pierce.

Decoration Day.

DECORATION DAY is upon us—the day when with floral tributes and wreaths we make pilgrimages to the graves which mark the resting places of beloved ones. We honor fallen heroes and pay homage also to those heroes who, although perhaps the world knows naught of them, are heroes none the less because of their noble acts and sacrifices. National sentiment created this holiday and the heart of the nation has fostered it. We go to the grave of our heroes with patriotic pride and reverence. This outward manifestation of the feelings keeps alive the flame, which should be burned forever before the altars of our martyrs. So it is good that we have Decoration Day among the days of the year. It makes one sweet short lull in American commercialism. We never should forget what has been done for the nation by the men who gave their lives that we may now enjoy life and liberty under the stars and stripes. It is a poor effort that we make to show our appreciation, but humble though it is, let us not forget to deck the graves of the fallen ones with some symbol of reverence. All Americans would like to journey to the resting places of men renowned as Washington, Lincoln and McKinley, but though we cannot adorn such honored tombs, our hearts may go out to these heroes, though we dwell on "home or foreign shore."

Perhaps in your vicinity there is some neglected grave of a soldier less famous—less famous perhaps, but none the less deserving of a tribute on Memorial Day. If he fought for his country there was some greatness in him, for greatness is first of all "a thing of the heart." The heart that prompted him to go into the service must have been the heart of a hero, There is not a man on land or sea but should cherish the memory of our fallen army and navy heroes—they are all heroes, they who sleep in the little corner of a church yard long forgotten and they who rest in "the marble tombs that rise on high." What matter grandeur to souls like theirs? It is the heartfelt love of the nation that they would ask for today, and so much we should give.

A Heart to Heart Talk.

NOTHING is so disastrous to the welfare of a community as discord and dissension. Little or nothing can be accomplished where people are quarreling among themselves, or where individuals cannot agree or are for any reason unharmonious. Civil war of all wars is the most calamitous. Factional strife of all disagreement is most to be deplored. Those of a community must be harmonious. Order and harmony are the elements without which right living and high thinking are impossible. In the societies, clubs, schools and churches of a town or city these elements must exist or the organizations cannot hope to have any weight or be an example to the onlooker. The little clouds which appear on the horizon should be banished, not made into a thunderbolt. Each individual can afford to sacrifice something for the sake of harmony. A club, church or school is what the members make it, not what its president, pastor or principal makes it. The aggregate is composed of individuals and so it is up to each one in an organization to give the body of which he or she is a part its reputation or standing.

Perhaps the earliest training along these lines can be given in the schools, and yet it is the exceptional scholar, not the average, that seems to realize that he or she is responsible for the standing of the school. The average student seems to think that it depends on the teacher and his ability to conquer the unruly and ungovernable, but unless the unruly and ungovernable control themselves the school will not be what it should be. Serious purpose will be lacking and the substitution of the rad or compulsory discipline will be neither beneficial to the individual nor to the school as a whole. The student who is a discordant factor is imposing on the tax-payer, who wishes to support a school that will be a credit to the community. Young men and women should not have to be whipped into shape by teachers. They who have a sense of right and wrong should realize a personal responsibility.

Discord from any grievance whatever must be avoided, not only in the schools but in the churches. There is too great a tendency toward religious discord among different creeds, and although we are all striving with one aim in view, the variance of creeds in religion seems to make perfect harmony impossible. Conditions are such that we no longer expect such an ideal condition.

Among those of the same creed, however, we expect harmony, and it should exist for the Bible plainly says among the six things the Lord doth hate is "him that soweth discord among brethren." Although self-control may be hard, if we would live within the moral law we must sacrifice much for the sake of harmony.

Miss Evelyn Waugaman Weds.

A very pretty but quiet church wilding took place on Wednesday, My 24th, at Holy Innocents Episcoal church on Fair Oaks street, San Francisco. The contracting arties were Miss Evelyn Virginia Vaugaman and George Baker Maloney, both of San Francisco, here the groom holds a responsble position as draughstman with te Pacific Pump Company.

The fair young bride was beomingly attired in a handsome gown of white point d'esprit and erried a boquet of white carnatins and asparagus ferns. Miss Nllie Gordenker, her bridesmaid, ws very pretty in a dainty gown ofwhite silk mull. She also carrid white carnations. The groom was attended by his cousin, Mr. Gorge King of Oakland.

Rev. H. B. Collier, a particular frind of the bride's family, said the solemn words that united the happy couple. The bride was given away by her grandfather, Hon. Robert Howe. The honeymoon will be spent in Southern California, after which Mr. and Mrs. Maloney will reside in tho Bay City.

"Happy, happy, happy pair,

HEARST PLACE HAS BEEN SOLD

California Wine Association has Closed Deal for Property Which will Now Come Under Its Control.

The California Wine Association has closed the deal for the Hearst property, and bought the place outright on Monday. H. R. Dakin will in all probability be retained as manager. The property, which is known as "Madrone" comprises over 300 acres, 250 of which is in vineyard.

In assuming control of the vineyards the California Wine Association will add to the capacity of the place for wine making and will put up new buildings and install new machinery in the winery.

Claims "Litzius" is Difficult to Pronounce.

William Frederick Litzius, a nephew of Louis Litzius of this place, is seeking to have his name changed by the courts from Litzius to "Will." Litzius is one of the principal owners of the firm of Will & Finck, which was sold last January for $200,000. F. A. Will, former senior partner of the firm, is opposing Litzius' effort to change his name, claiming that he is trying to assume his (Will's) name and reputation for business aggrandizement.

Litzius avers that he wishes to change his name because it handicaps him in his business dealings, because "Litzius" is difficult to spell and pronounce. He also claims that half of his customers call him by the name of "Will".

Louis Litzius, of this place, opposes the action of his nephew, and has filed a petition in which he alleges that his nephew is seeking to trade unjustly and without any right upon his name, after having been charitably helped by Mr. Will in his business career. He declares that no one ever experienced any difficulty in spelling or pronouncing the name of "Litzius."

The Court on Wednesday, notwithstanding the objections of L. Litzius, his uncle, and others, granted the young man's petition and his legal name will henceforth be known as William Frederick Will.

Closing Session of Club Pleasant Affair.

The closing session of the Sonoma Valley Woman's Club prior to the summer vacation was a pleasant affair and was well attended. The afternoon was arranged by Miss Alice Humphreys of the Library Section of the club, who was much congratulated for her success. The club rooms were prettily decorated with roses and trailing vines, and the ladies in their summer dresses added much to the attractiveness of the occasion.

The Choral rendered two numbers during the afternoon, and Chapen, the violinist, delighted his hearers with several selections. Prof. Montgomery and Robt. Hill both gave excellent talks on libraries, and when the program closed tea was served and a social time enjoyed by those present.

Spent Sunday at Buena Vista Castle.

A congenial party composed of the following ladies and gentlemen spent Sunday at Buena Vista Castle and had a delightful time: Mesdames P. N. Stofen, F. Clewe, H. Watters, Misses A. Riensch, S. Long, D. Clewe, M. Stofen, O. Leichter, M. Clewe, and Messrs. P. O. Stofen, H. Watters, A. Hulse, W. Clewe, and J. H. Willard of San Francisco.

An elegant dinner was partaken of by the visitors at the Castle, after which they were taken about the spacious grounds, and to the reservoir, where they spent several hours in the shade of the large trees.

They returned about 6:30 with the intention to renew their visit with mine host Martel soon and often.

Master McMullin's Birthday.

Master Joe McMullin celebrated his sixth birthday Wednesday afternoon in true juvenile fashion. About twenty playmates assembled at his home on Napa street and each one was laden with a pretty gift for the young host. After playing games for an hour or so the children were invited to partake of water ice and delicious cakes at a gayly decorated table. The birthday cake occupied the center of the table on which six vari-colored tapers burned.

The following children were present:

Gladys Simmons, Florence Green, Zolita Bates, Julia Carriger, Nancy Bates, Ramona Granice, Bernice Hocker, Wilma Hocker, Fred Duhring, Harry Lutgens, Raymond Castex, Billy Schauer, Clyde Stademan, Herman Stademan, Spencer Harris, Olga Landgrebe, Willie Caminetti, Kenneth Stonier, Eugene Harris Russel Colton, Henry Weber and John Duhring.

THE CLUB LADIES CONGREGATE IN NAPA

New Century Club Royally Entertains Visitors from Sonoma Thursday

Perhaps the most royal entertainment ever accorded the Sonoma Valley Woman's Club was that given by the New Century Club of Napa which held its reciprocity day on Thursday and entertained six other clubs besides the one from here. The Napa ladies exemplified the true meaning of hospitality and their program showed what the modern club woman is in the matter of intelligence and culture.

Luncheon was served to the visiting members upon their arrival and about 250 ladies sat down to the artistic tables in St. Joseph's Hall.

The rich colors of the nastirtiums were much used in the decoration together with the colors of the New Century Club.

Mrs. Frank Coombs was toast mistress and a special table was reserved for her and the visiting clubs officers or presidents.

The speakers at the banquet did themselves proud and the subjects: "California," "The Club Woman," "The Gentleman," "Education," etc., were splendidly handled. For wit, repartee and oratory it is hard to find the equal of Napa's "New Century" woman. After the luncheon the guests were invited to an uptown hall where the various club presidents spoke and music was rendered.

In the absence of Mrs. Hill, who was detained by illness, Mrs. Stearns represented and spoke for the Sonoma Valley Woman's Club.

At four o'clock the assemblage broke up and after a most delightful day the visitors from Sonoma drove home.

Those who went from here were: Mesdames Harris, Lutgens, Poulsen, Lowell, Green, Gise, Byron, Nolan, Stofen, Stearns; Misses Clewe, Lowell, Granice, Reinsch, Fraser and Gaines.

Passed Away.

Edward Maffei, two-years-old, died of brain fever Sunday and was laid to rest by his sorrowing parents Monday.

Kate Nicholson, a domestic, passed away at the Schell home Saturday night of heart failure.

The dog poisoner has been active in this burg of late and already three brutes have passed away via the ground glass route, the latest being Tom Mullen's thoroughbred greyhound. A detective has been on the track of the evil-doers for some weeks and suspicion now rests on two urchins under ten years of age, and enough evidence has been secured to convince the public that the suspicion is correct. The plan of the young miscreants was to steal bottles, carry them to the Southern Pacific track, break them up, lay the pieces on the rails and after the train had passed over them collect the crushed glass, carry it home and convert it into glass powders to be used in destroying the harmless brutes. The younger of the urchins was put through the sweating process and made a clean breast of their modus operandi. The facts of this heartless outrage have already been put in the hands of the proper law officers and the law-abiding citizens of this town earnestly hope that the parents of those two precocious youngsters will be made to take some steps to prevent the occurrence of this shameful outrage. There are many valuable dogs in this community, not a few of which are brought here by summer visitors, and we trust never again to be forced to chronicle the destruction of any of those noble brutes by the horrible and agonizing process of glass poisoning. The poor hound mentioned above was found in the last stages of glass-poisoning and to put him out of his misery was taken to the bed of Sonoma creek and shot.

Last Will and Testament of the Late Miss Lucy White

Almera White Wilson, through her attorney Mrs. F. McG. Martin, has petitioned for a probate of the will of the late Miss Lucy White, the popular station agent at Kenwood, whose death was such a shock to the valley a short time ago. Miss White left property valued at $1980 to her father, also an insurance policy of $1,000. The will is in the form of a letter, the beautiful simplicity of which was characteristic of the writer. In part it reads as follows:

"KENWOOD, March 16, 1905.—Dear folks: In case I should some day leave this world suddenly and without the opportunity of parting words, I write these few instructions, which I know you will follow as far as you legally can. You will find my life insurance policy and other papers in a certain desk drawer in the depot. The $1,000 policy made out in father's behalf after mother's death, will of course go to him. If at the time of my death my place is still encumbered, he will pay off the indebtness out of the policy money.

My place, lots 19 and 20, in block 13, Kenwood, California, I should deed to my father, C. W. White, for his use during his natural life time, but not to be sold during his life time. I would ask him to deed or leave it to my three sisters, Amy Bainbridge, Mary Lewis, Allie Wilson to share and share alike after father's death.

"My diamond ring I leave to my brotner, Asa Frank White, and to William R. White my gold chain and cross. My gold breastpin is to be given to my first blood niece. My books and pictures and dishes are to be divided between my two step neices, Hazel and Vivian Bainbridge. My furniture between my sisters May, Amy and Allie. The insurance and taxes on my place must be paid by party living in the house taking care of my father. This expense to cover rent.

The tender epistle ends with these words: "Do not mourn for me, but rejoice that I have gone to rest and peace and to meet those gone before. Meet us over there 'One by one.' With endless love,

Yours,
LUCY KATHERINE WHITE.

A LITTLE NONSENSE.

An Eternal Sameness in the Newly Married Couple.

The bride in wrath goes home to her mother. The groom in rage seeks his father for comfort.

"Mother," weeps the bride, "he has begun staying out late at night, telling me he has to go to the lodge or he has missed his train or must sit up with a sick friend, and when he comes in there are cloves on his breath, and"—

"Ah!" answers the mother. "Your father made the same excuses. Men are just the same as ever."

"Dad," says the groom, "we've separated. When I am detained at the office or have to go to the lodge or sit up with a sick friend she sits up till I get home and then makes me lose sleep to listen to her comments."

"Your mother was the same way, my boy," sympathetically says the father. "Talk about the eternal feminine!"—Judge.

Too Bewildering.

"Yes, deah boy, I lost my cane and advertised a reward for it, don't you know."

"Did you get it back, old chap?"

"I got back such a lot of 'em, don't you know, that it was positively bewildering, and pretty soon it was quite impossible for me to remembah how my cane looked, and so I let 'em have 'em all, don't you know."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

A Morning Dream.

Mr. Skynflynt—I dreamed I was going to give a Pullman porter a quarter.

Mrs. Skynflynt—Shouldn't think that would make you grin.

Mr. Skynflynt—Well, I woke up just as he was reaching for it.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

None Too Liberal.

"Mr. Linger spends a great deal of time with you, Jane."

"Yes, but that's all he does spend."

His Work.

"Young man," said the old merchant sternly, "I caught you kissing the typewriter when I returned to the office this morning. What have you to say, sir?"

That off my pen point spills;
They send my poems back with a rush,
But not a check for my bills."

OPEN-TOP OBSERVATION CARS

Something New for Travelers to the East

A novelty in railway passenger equipment will shortly be introduced by the Denver & Rio Grande Railroad Company. That company is now building a number of open top observation cars to be attached during the summer months to its daylight trains running through the Royal Gorge, Grand Canon of the Arkansas, Canon of the Grand River, and the Black Canon of the Gunnison. These cars are of modern construction and have a seating capacity for seventy-two persons; sides but no tops, being entirely open, thus giving passengers from California to the East a free and unobstructed view of the grand scenery of the Rocky Mountains.

These cars will be entirely at the service—free of charge—to all occupants of through sleepers of all classes.

This is but one of the many comforts and advantages offered by this, The Scenic Line of the World. Ask W. J. Shotwell, General Agent, 625 Market street, San Francisco, for handsomely illustrated traveler's guide; sent free of charge.

You can get two suits for what you have paid for one. From H. F. Lord, Dal Pogetto bld'g Sonoma. *

Homemade Cologne.

One quart alcohol, two drams each of oil of lemon, bergamot and rosemary, one dram of oil of lavender, ten drops each of oil of cloves and cinnamon, eight drops of musk and two drops of oil of rose.

Obstinate Fruit Jar Covers.

If the cover of a fruit jar sticks do not attempt to wrench it off. Simply invert the jar and place the top in hot water for a minute. Then try and you will find it turns easily. —Pilgrim.

To Keep the Hands White.

If you would have white hands keep the circulation stimulated by rubbing the back of one by the palm of the other. Do this several times a day.

The Finger Nails.

Vaseline rubbed on the nails at night will strengthen the nails. The white spots, which are so objectionable, are usually the result of bruises.

Cure For Felon.

A paste made of equal parts of brimstone, saltpeter and lard if bound about a felon will cure it. Renew as soon as it gets dry.

Sickroom Disinfectant.

Burn pine tar occasionally in a sickroom. It is an excellent disinfectant, and it also induces sleep.

For Sore Eyes.

The scrapings of raw potato laid upon a soft cloth and bound over sore eyes will often cure them.

Why Suffer from Rheumatism.

Why suffer from rheumatism when one application of Chamberlain's Pain Balm will relieve the pain? The quick relief which this liniment affords makes rest and sleep possible, and that alone is worth many times its cost. Many who have used it hoping only for a short relief from suffering have been happily surprised to find that after awhile the relief became permanent. Mrs. V. H. Leggett of Yum Yum, Tennessee, U. S. A., writes: "I am a great sufferer from rheumatism, all over from head to foot, and Chamberlain's Pain Balm is the only thing that will relieve the pain. For sale by Shoults & Co.

The electric railway agitation here has subsided.

Growing Aches and Pains

Mrs. Josie Sumner, Bremond, Texas, writes April 15, 1902: "I have used Ballard's Snow Liniment in my family for three years. I would not be without it in the house. I have used it on my little girl for growing pains and aches in her knees. It cured her right away. I have also used it for frost bitten feet, with good success. It is the best liniment I ever used. 25c 50c, and $1. Sold by L. S. Simmons.

Cherry picking is now in full blast in Sonoma Valley. There will be less than half a crop.

The harvest season has commenced in this valley.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy the Very Best

"I have been using Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and want to say it is the best cough medicine I have ever taken," says Geo. L. Chubb, a merchant of Harlan, Mich. There is no question about its being the best, as it will cure a cough or cold in less time than any other treatment. It should always be kept in the house ready for instant use, for a cold can be cured in much less time when promptly treated. For sale by Shoults & Co.

Several fine baskets of trout have been caught in Sonoma Creek the past week.

A Good Family Liniment.

Every family should be supplied with a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm. For cuts, bruises, burns scalds and similar injuries, which are of frequent occurrence, there is nothing so good. It soothes the wound and not only gives instant relief from pain, but causes the parts to heal in about one-third the time required by the usual treatment. As it is antiseptic all danger from blood-poisoning is avoided Sold by Shoults & Co.

The Hoch jury in Chicago brought in a verdict of murder, and sentenced Hoch to be hung.

A Good Suggestion.

Mr. C. B. Wainwright of Lemon City, Fla., has written the manufactures that much better results are obtained from the use of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy in cases of pains in the stomach, colic and cholera morbus by taking it in water as hot as can be drank. That when taken in this way the effect is double in rapidity. "It seems to get at the right spot instantly," he says. For sale by Shoults & Co.

Herbine.

Will overcome indigestion and dyspepsia, regulate the bowels and cure liver and kidney complaints. It is the best blood enricher and invigorator in the world. It is purely vegetable, perfectly harmless and should you be a sufferer from disease you will use it if you are wise. R. N. Andrews, editor and manager Cocoa and Rockledge News, Cocoa, Fla., writes: I have used your Herbine in my family, and find it a most excellent medicine. Its effects upon myself have been a marked benefit Sold by L. S. Simmons.

May day dampened the ardor of picnicers, as rain fell all day long in this section of the State.

A Positive Neccessity.

Having to lay upon my bed for 14 days from a severely bruised leg, I only found relief when I used a bottle of Ballard's Snow Liniment. I can cheerfully recommend it as the best medicine for bruises ever sent to the afflicted. It has now become a postive necessity upon myself. D. R. Byrens, Merchant, Doversville, Texas. 25c. 50c and $1 00. Sold by L. S. Simmons.

Exposure.

To cold draughts of air, to keen and cutting winds, sudden changes of the temperature, scanty clothing, undue exposure of the throat and neck after public speaking and singing, brings on coughs and colds. Ballard's Horehound Syrup is the best cure Mrs. A. Barr, Houston, Tex., writes, Jan. 31, 1902: "One bottle of Ballard's Horehound Syrup cured me of a very bad cough. It is very pleasant to take. Sold by L. S. Simmons.
